DEEP DIVE COACH'S WORKSHEET

Adapted by Colton Mulligan from multiple sources.

Coach's Intention: You will listen to understand the story & inner struggle of the presenter. You will NOT try to analyze or solve.

Goal: Help the presenter define the core issue they want to explore in their deep dive, and clarify what types of experiences they would like to hear.

4 KEYS TO BEING A GREAT COACH

1. Active Listening: Be present and Mindful. Three deep breaths. Empty mind. Quiet body, Eye Contact, Listen... through the whole story. Listen for their feeling, DO NOT think about what you'll say.

2. Reflect Back: Repeat back to the presenter what they are communicating. Do not offer solutions to their challenges. Great question to ask: "...and why is that significant?"

3."Tell Me More" Listen for clues to inner struggle…

Body Language	Repetition	Amplification	Powerful Words
Contradictions	Feelings	Pace & Pitch	Metaphors

4. Focus Questions to home in on the core struggle, rather than the details…

What is the most troubling part of this for you?

When have you felt like this before?

In what ways are you contributing to the issue?

If your friend was sharing this issue, what question would you ask them?

What would you like to be able to say, 1 year from now?

Fill out these parts below to prepare your Coach's Introduction during the Forum.

a. Single sentence describing the topic, opportunity, or challenge:

b. The emotions I noticed were:

c. Something I heard (or noticed) that I want to share:

d. The kinds of experiences the presenter would like to hear:

1.

2.